APRIL PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Each month at our meetings I remind those present that our organization is geared towards education of our members and the public. We do this by presenting speakers and programs that update genealogy buffs on the latest tools, software, Internet info, research aids and opportunities available.

Last month Beverly Wellington was our guest speaker and she spoke about writing a life story that can be left for family as a “first person” record of a long and interesting life. I issued a challenge following her presentation to our members to start writing “your” life story and to share it at the April 2015 meeting. That challenge is the subject of our meeting this month.

Many people in our group can trace their family back quite a few generations and have some idea what their ancestors looked like, how many children they had, when they were born and when they died. What really makes the story interesting is when more details come to light that make these people really interesting and alive. For example, if a grandmother was an expert seamstress, one feels connected when they share that talent. If that fact wasn't passed down to granddaughters, then a piece of family history would surely be lost for all time.

My aunt Josephine said my grandparents came to California in the late 1890's from France. Their brothers who came to California in the 1880's sponsored grandma and Grandpa. Both older brothers had connections to French laundries and that's where my grandparents met. In the “old country” my grandmother could never marry into my grandfathers' family who were considered socially unacceptable by her merchant class parents. Jacques and Pauline grew up in southern France but never met until coming to California. My Aunt Josephine shared these facts with me when I helped Aunt Josephine write her life story. I firmly believe a life story should never be forgotten.

I encourage you to write your life story and share it with your kin in the years to come.

Happy writing,
Celeste Guillory
GPGS President

Treasurer's Report: Pat Heumann

Feb 2015 financial report- balance forward is $1182.86 (although the checkbook reflects $1016.36)

2015 budget- projected income of $1075.15 and projected expenses of $1182.00.
Membership as of 1 Mar 15- there are 48 members including 3 new members who have joined since Sept 2014. Report on 2014 audit- Pat Heumann and Jeanette Dickson to sign the audit verification letter.

There is a discrepancy of $141.49 from Jan-Nov 2014. NO MONEY WAS TAKEN!! It was probably caused by one or more transactions erroneously entered in EXCEL. Bank statements and check book balances. The error is only in the EXCEL file record kept before December 2014 and will be found.

Petty cash- $8.38

Bills outstanding? None

Programs: V/P Laura Dunwald-Uhlig

April:

Perhaps Roots Tech 2015 (but Cindy Suda said that extensive information about Roots Tech is on the GPHS FaceBook page – ROOTS TECH CLASSES an be downloaded Or maybe some one will take Celeste's challenge and share an excerpt from their life story as a follow-up to Beverly Wellington's workshop at today's general meeting.

May/June:

Ann Billeter may be willing to talk about the Jo.Co. library!
Mr. Strobling might help people with computer usage for genealogy a caravan trip to and a tour/mini workshop at the Jackson County Genealogy Library on South Pacific Hwy in Medford. Celeste will contact Andrea Patterson, Pres.

Website: On 16 Mar 15, the GPGS webpage automatically renews and will cost under $80.00 and is in the budget

FaceBook Page: Cindy Suda

* Cindy reported that there had been astronomical FaceBook usage in Feb and she credits that to the Roots Tech info. Over 90 people viewed one post. Usage has declined a little since 1 Mar. Also, people from various states, not just Oregon, are using the GPGS FaceBook page

Old Business: Quilt Raffle

The beautiful king size quilt is ready. The motion was made and seconded that there should be a change in the cost of the tickets. Instead of $1.00 each and 6 for $5.00, it was decided by a 5-2 vote (w/ 1 abstention) that tickets should be sold for $5.00 each or 6 for $25.00. Tickets and cash must be sent to the GPGS Post Office Box listed on the tickets.

*Drawing will take place during the annual Christmas luncheon in December. Winner does not have to be present to win.

Summer Yard Sale:

Celeste found out that there wouldn't be any yard sales at the Jo. Co. Fairgrounds, so we will have to find another location to hold this annual revenue event. Umpqua Back (across from the main post office) and we may be able to have the yard sale 25 Jul 15 from 8:30-1:00 in their parking lot. (That is Back to the 50's week.) If this doesn't pan out, Celeste will contact the Farmers' Market. Quilt raffle tickets will be sold at this event.

New Business:

Research Chairman Linda Kent is doing genealogical research. She is not charging a set fee but rather asking for a donation for GPGS. People are contacting Linda in part because of FaceBook and the website. LaVonna Ness may also be willing to do research.

Announcements:

*We are sending Janis Seaton positive thoughts and good wishes

*Who Do You Think You Are? is on TLC on Sundays

Photographs set to music ..... These photographs are absolutely incredible! Many of them are from the Civil War era and early 1900's. The clarity is astounding and the colorization looks as if they were taken with modern photo gear.

Make sure you watch it on HD setting; you can click on it in the upper right hand corner of the screen when it starts playing. There is music, too! The WWII photos are heart breaking.

May 8, 2015 marks the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II in Europe. My uncle Henry was in the US Army that landed on D Day in Normandy and then liberated the German concentration camps in Germany. Some of my European kin were inmates in those camps.

American History Magazine's June issue featured a story about the Center For American War Letters at Chapman University that has a repository of letters written by the troops during all the wars starting with the American revolution until now. "Captured in these wartime correspondences are riveting eyewitness accounts of historic moments and incredible stories of courage, honor, sacrifice and resilience."

More than 100,000 letters are in the collection including present day emails from Iraq and Afghanistan

Finding Your Ancestors on ebay

Finding Your Ancestors & More on eBay Evie E. Rice

You can find almost anything on eBay, from swizzle stick collections to real estate. But for our purposes...

Cities & Towns	Events	Vacations
Schools	Cultural events	Honeymoons
Churches	History	Maps
Businesses	Occupations	Family Names
Countryside	Disasters	Surprise
Military	Yearbooks
Ships, Planes, etc.	Books

And to help with your research:

Research guides	Published records	Memorabilia
Maps	Directories	Letters
Histories	Yearbooks	Bibles
Genealogies	Original documents	Photos

Be creative with ideas for searches.

Tips:

- Like Google, use quotes for exact phrases, and - (minus) for exclusions.
- Always check "Include Description" in your searches.
- Select "Worldwide" Item Location for international interests.
- Don't restrict the "Categories" unless you absolutely need to.
- Save Your Searches!

Often you can take screenshots, rather than buying pictures. However, sometimes sellers have added watermarks to their images and/or have posted very low resolution images to discourage this.

Browser plug-ins such as the Firefox add-on "Save Images" can make it easier to save high-resolution versions of images when the vendor tries to prevent you from doing so.

(<https://addons.mozilla.org/en-US/firefox/addon/save-images/?src=api>)

Part 2: To buy anything on eBay you need:

* An eBay account - easy to sign up and no complications

* (Access to) a PayPal account - a bit more of a hassle.

- PayPal links to your credit card. - Must be linked to your bank account (soon - see below)

Three ways things are sold on eBay:

* Buy It Now (BIN) - You get a guaranteed purchase at a specified price - NOW.

* Make an Offer (MAO) - (Combined with BIN) You make an offer less than the BIN price (50% often works). Seller may make counter-offer(s). Success not guaranteed (unless you pay the BIN price). Transaction time variable. May be trumped by other user's MAO offer, or BIN.

* Auction - (Often combined with BIN/MAO). Success not guaranteed. Best way to get a cheap sale price, but you could be trumped at any time by BIN/MAO).

TIP: In a highly competitive market, or for items that are really important to you, use BIN or MAO. For items you can walk away from, use auction.

TIP: Watch out for shipping costs. Some items have a zero starting bid, but $100 shipping!
